

To Whom It May Concern,

I'm pleased to recommend Nishtha Singhal, who joined Earthside Farms as a Copywriting Intern from February 7th to July 11th, 2025. Throughout her time with us, Nishtha consistently delivered thoughtful, high-quality work and brought a positive, professional attitude to every task.

Her responsibilities included writing blog posts, product descriptions, social media content and more. Her writing was consistently clear, engaging, and aligned well with our brand voice. She quickly picked up and applied valuable skills such as copywriting, content marketing, SEO keyword research, brand storytelling, tone adaptation, and content strategy.

Nishtha also collaborated closely with our graphic design team to ensure her copy was supported visually through images, videos, and graphics, creating cohesive, compelling content. She met deadlines, responded well to feedback, and paid close attention to detail.

Nishtha's drive to learn and her collaborative spirit made her a valuable member of the Earthside Farms team. I'm confident she'll bring the same dedication and creativity to any future role.

Please feel free to reach out if you'd like more information.

Sincerely,

Azmina Panjwani
